

2nd Chance Show Clothing

Consignment Agreement

By signing this document you, the 'Consignor', agree to let 2nd Chance Show Clothing market your apparel in the best way they see fit whether that be through our website, social media, print advertising, or in person at equine events including horse shows and trade shows. We are not responsible for any damages or delays during the shipment process. Consignors are responsible for shipping costs both to 2nd Chance and back to the Consignor if desired. As for pricing, please indicate price points for the item(s) at the time of signing this document, otherwise, we will determine an appropriate price. Please note that sales are final and by signing this document you accept the final sale price of your item, less the commission rate, as determined by 2nd Chance Show Clothing.

If a Consignor chooses to terminate the agreement with 2nd Chance they are no longer allowed to use any of our photos or other promotional materials relating to your item. Consignment items may be returned to the owner at any point in time, shipping charges apply. Consignment items are kept for a maximum of one year and then will be returned to the owner. We will suggest dropping the price one or more times throughout the year before returns to the consignor are made.

By signing this contract you agree to the commission percentages listed below as compensation for the sale of consignment item(s):

Commission Rate: 20%

2nd Chance advertises all of our consignments on Facebook, Instagram, and our website (2ndchanceshowclothing.com), in addition to attending shows throughout the season. Please be aware that not every item will be posted to Facebook within each post, however, we always encourage customers to visit the website to view more complete listings - where every item is marketed with photos and measurements. After several months if there has been no movement on your items we will slowly drop the price, staying within the pricing guidelines provided below. After one year, if the item hasn't sold, we will contact you to determine steps moving forward and discuss options for returning your item or significantly reducing the cost of it.

Items we DO NOT accept:

- Boots, unless dyed to match an outfit
- Undersized saddle pads (no smaller than 34x38)
- Western Saddles
- English Tack
- Saddleseat Items
- Items with significant defects such as holes, stains, rips, tears, or an excessive amount of missing stones.

Items we will always accept:

- Quality used show clothing, both Western and English in good condition
- New show clothing
- Complete outfits with matching boots, chaps, hats, etc
- Chaps
- Hats (no white please)
